

timothy duncan data science intern celonis fakeemail@example.com summary new york ny analytical data science student experience python customerfacing interfaces seeking gain experience executing proof value projects supporting business development activities emea market celonis experience data science intern celonis date period new york ny strengths analytical thinking demonstrated ability analyze complex problems find effective solutions team collaboration proven track record working effectively diverse teams achieve project goals resultsdriven consistently achieved exceeded project goals kpis skills python data analysis data visualization machine learning san francisco ca sql statistics executing proof value projects supporting business development activities emea market identified pain points technical gotomarket strategy ideated solutions fix resulting 20 increase customer satisfaction created solutions help solution engineers across globe daily work leading 15 increase productivity improved automated data ingestion resulting 25 reduction processing time software development intern abc company date period developed maintained customerfacing interfaces companys software products collaborated team developers design implement new software features resulting 30 increase customer adoption achievements identified resolved software bugs resulting 40 reduction customer complaints project leadership 4 developed new software tool data visualization leading 25 increase customer engagement data analyst intern xyz corporation date period chicago il analyzed customer data support business decisionmaking developed maintained database customer data resulting 15 improvement data accuracy successfully led team 5 develop machine learning model predicting customer churn data visualization developed interactive dashboards using tableau provide business insights stakeholders identified customer trends presented findings senior management leading 10 increase customer retention awards developed automated data analysis tools resulting 20 reduction data processing time education bachelor science industrial engineering university california berkeley date period berkeley ca languages english wwwenhancvcom native spanish proficient academic excellence award received award outstanding academic performance undergraduate studies hackathon winner first place university hackathon developing predictive analytics model powered enhancv